You don't have to be Ginger Rogers or Fred Astaire join Levin's social dance group.

They meet at Levin RSA, every Tuesday. There's a $2 cover charge which includes a cuppa and a couple of hours enjoying good music and good company.

"It's not competitive, we are strictly social dancers," coordinator Jack Young said "We're here to enjoy ourselves, you don't have to be an RSA member, you don't have to come every week.

Dance for fun, friendship and fitness!

It's about enjoying yourself when you have time."

Social dancing includes a variety of dance styles, and the great thing is if you don't know any, there's always someone to help. "The progressive dances are really easy to pick up," Jack said.

"You dance with a variety of partners, the steps are simple and you can learn as you go along."

The fact dancing keeps you fit, makes you feel good and is extremely social is an added bonus.

Non dancers are welcome to come and enjoy the music. Who knows, the dancing bug may bite. Raffles raise money for local charities and an annual themed mid year ball is enormous fun.

For more information go to Levin RSA, Bristol Street between 10am and noon any Tuesday.

Jack Young coordinates social dancing at Levin RSA every Tuesday morning, he also runs the music and can even be seen on the dance floor with wife Patsy when he gets the chance.
