FLY HIGH AT OTAKI BEACH

The 2017 Otaki Kite Festival is on 25 and 26 March, entry is free and everyone is welcome. Bring a seat, a picnic and a kite. If you don't have a kite don't worry, they will be on sale from the information tent. There will be plenty of entertainment including live music, food and craft stalls.

One of the largest kite festivals in New Zealand, the event is in its fourth year with over 15,000 people attending last year; organisers are expecting even more this year.

Guest 'kite pilots' include Adelaide couple Linda and Kevin Sanders who will present specialist kites not seen before in New Zealand. Demonstrating their piloting skills are Australians Trevor Rees and Tony Rice along with Peter Lynn from Ashburton.

The selection of kites include 5m banners, Satellites and Delta and Della Portas kites being flown in trains of three. Tony Rice will conduct kite-making workshops.

Kapiti Coast District Council contribute some funding while volunteers from Otaki Promotions group run the festival which starts at 10am each day - tide dependent.
