For 38 years the Paraparaumu Care and Craft Centre has been catering and caring for adult 'guests' one morning a week. The group is part of a national organisation, the Care and Craft Centres of New Zealand Trust, formed in Auckland by Rewa Henderson QSM in 1974. The centre is run completely by volunteer helpers and caters for a huge variety of adult 'guests'. Guests may be housebound, have disabilities, be emotionally distressed or elderly living alone and lacking companionship. Transport to the centre can be arranged for those who require it.

The centre is not affiliated to any religious denomination and everyone is welcome. There is the opportunity to try a variety of table games, learn a craft or carry on with knitting etc brought from home. Some just enjoy the relaxed setting and the company.

The Centre operates on Tuesdays at the Kapiti Community Centre, Ngahina Street, Paraparaumu, only breaking from December to February for Christmas.

Morning tea is served at 10am, and a hot lunch at 11.45 for $6. To help with funds, a grocery raffle is always on offer.

For information on the Paraparaumu Care and Craft Centre contact Maureen on 04 2972037.
