Do you have, or do you need, skills for living? Horowhenua Skills4Living would love to hear from you.

Volunteer mentors come from all walks of life to teach life skills to anyone, of any age, who need help.

and is about building relationships with children and learning skills to effectively parent.

They also provide 'supervised contact' with referrals from the Ministry of Justice, Oranga Tamariki and the permanent caregiver support service.

Skills4Living has also given Levin the opportunity to have a recycling point for things like razors, old toothbrushes and plastic bags.

If you have some experience and knowledge you would like to share, or something you have always wanted to learn, we would love to talk to you.

THE DANGER THAT LURKS BELOW

Please be mindful of the hazard that exists when metal stakes are driven in an area where underground services may exist.

HERE

Consider using non metallic stakes, getting power cables located, and keeping temporary fencing and signage inside the boundary.

Putting a plastic cap on the top of the stake is not much help if the danger is lurking below!
